

Speaker's Profile

David H. Stevens

USA

Current:

- David Stevens is President and CEO of the Mortgage Bankers Association (MBA).
- He serves on the Hope Loan Port board of directors, the board of MBA Opens Doors Foundation, MBA's national nonprofit organization for philanthropic ventures, and as an advisory board member of the J. Ronald Terwilliger Foundation for Housing America's Families.

Past:

- Prior to assuming the position of President and CEO of the MBA, Dave served as the Assistant Secretary for Housing and Federal Housing Commissioner at the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).
- Prior to his appointment by the Obama Administration to serve at HUD, Dave was President and COO of the Long and Foster Companies.
- Dave has more than 30 years of experience in mortgage finance and has held several executive level positions in sales, acquisition, investment, risk management and regulatory oversight, including positions in senior management with Wells Fargo, Freddie Mac and World Savings.
- He is known as a key housing influential; serving as an industry authority on major mortgage finance legislative and regulatory issues.

Education:

Dave Stevens is a graduate of the University of Colorado, Boulder.