

Speaker's Profile

Deniz Igan

USA

Current:

Deniz Igan is Deputy Division Chief at the Research Department of the International Monetary Fund. Her responsibilities include the supervision of division inputs to intra- and interdepartmental work streams; management of division's strategic agenda and human resources; research on macro-financial linkages, financial stability and regulation, housing and credit markets; review of IMF reports. She has worked for the IMF since 2005.

Past:

- Before Ms Igan became Deputy Division Chief at IMF's Research Department in 2015, she had worked for the IMF as Senior Economist at the Western Hemisphere Department and as Economist at the Research and European Departments.
- Teaching assistant at the Economic Department of Princeton University
- Visiting scholar at Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania
- Ms Igan has published a large number of articles in journals and books.

Education:

- Ph.D. in Economics, Princeton University,
- B.A. in Economics (with highest honors) Bilkent University, Ankara, Turkey